Arts Integration Focus School Agreement 2019-20

Description
The Kennedy Center Partners in Education (KC-PIE) Program is a partnership between Ingham ISD and Wharton Center based on the belief that teachers’ professional training in arts integration is an essential component of any effort designed to increase the artistic literacy of young people. Ingham ISD and surrounding district schools are eligible to create an Arts Integration Focus School team that will...

1. Participate in a three-day Arts Integration Summer Institute where educators and guest artists come together to deepen their understanding of arts integration;
2. Receive support through a Professional Learning Community by sharing and learning about new topics in arts integration;
3. Host a teaching artist for an arts integrated residency in their classroom;
4. Report the results of their efforts in an annual report to stakeholders.

This team is composed of building administrators and teaching staff. Focus School teams participate in the full program each year.
